SHEPHERDS' FESTIVAL,
the oldest Slovenian ethnographic event
Sunday the 11th of August 2019 at 11am

Every year on the second Sunday in August, the Restaurant by the lake and the Tourist Association of Jezersko organize the oldest Slovenian ethnographic event called the Shepherds' Festival. This year it will be the 61th in a row.

The program, which will begin at 11am, will include old customs from the mountains. Sheep herding, and jobs, associated with the processing of sheep's wool from shearing and spinning to knitting socks, will be demonstrated.

You will be able to pamper your taste buds with homemade dishes prepared in the traditional way on an open fire. »Masunjek« with sour milk and buckwheat »žganci« with cabbage were dishes that shepherds used to prepare in the mountains. Fresh fried »flancati« still symbolize the festive atmosphere of the event.

SUMMER EVENTS IN JEZERSKO

Jezerska štorija

The stories of Jezersko
1st July - 7th September 2019

Kjer je narava najlepša!

Jezersko is a valley under Grintovci that, in addition to the exceptional location, also features a unique dialect, which is preserved in Andrej Karničars book Jezerske štorije (The Stories of Jezersko). This way, the stories, legends and memories of the events of everyday life, which have long been passed on only through the oral tradition, remain alive.

It is our identity that we maintain and want to share with you. We have prepared a variety of summer events which present an important link between the past and the present. The events are interesting and suitable for anyone who would like to know more about our history, ethnological heritage, nature, majestic mountains, farms, animals and local food.

You are kindly invited to attend the summer events in Jezersko - join Jezerska štorija 2019!

WEEKLY EVENTS

July - August

Every TUESDAY at 10am at the TIC

Guided tour of Jezersko's natural and cultural attractions

We take a walk along the picturesque Jezersko valley and learn more about the area and its attractions.

The path first leads us along the Jezernica creek and past the spring of the healing mineral water which we try straight out of our hands. From here we can already see the church of St. Andrew, which was built in a special location. We go past the church and head towards the five-century-old Šenk's homestead, where they specialize in sustainable agritourism. We also visit the building next door which is from the 16th century and hosts the Ethnographic Museum Jenk's barracks. We make a long panoramic bow and we return past the Planšar Lake back to the village center. We are happy to change the trip according to your wishes and together we can also visit other sights of Jezersko valley.

Every THURSDAY at 4pm at Šenk's homestead

The demonstration of wool processing

The wool of the native Jezersko-Solčava sheep breed is of high quality and suitable for processing into various products. During the winter, the spinning wheel used to spin and the knitting needles used to dance on the farms. The skillful fingers of the ladies created different products; from socks and sweaters to blankets and small decorative items. On Šenk's homestead we will show you the almost lost and forgotten tradition and with the help of the local masters, you will be able to become part of it yourself.

FRIDAYS* at 8pm on Jenk's farm

Play »Jezerska štorija« in Jenk's barracks

In the 500-year-old Jenk's barracks, which hosts a museum, you will see 3 stories from the life of the local people from many years ago. Actors, who are members of the local amateur cast, happily turn into shepherds, horse and cart drivers and other characters from our history to show the audience the past life in an authentic dialect of Jezersko. The stories were collected and written by Andrej Karničar in the book Jezerske štorije (Stories of Jezersko).

*Performances are planned for the following dates: 19th of July, 26th of July, 9th of August and 16th of August .

By prior arrangement, the play can also be performed out of scheduled dates.

Every SATURDAY at 5pm at Lake Planšar

Cooking »masunjek« on an open fire

In the lodge by Lake Planšar we will show you how shepherds in the mountains used to prepare »masunjek«, a dish from cream and buckwheat flour. We will be happy to let you cook, so that in the end you will eat the »masunjek« with even greater respect and enjoyment.
